

EDEN Select Apps

Eden Select application is a professional HVAC&R engineering tool to perform heat load calculation, cold room and product selection for users' references. This mobile application can assist users wherever they are, especially working at job sites.

Functions:

- Individual heat load calculation such as cold room load, product load, infiltration load, etc
- Various food heat load references
- Freezing time calculation
- Total operation load calculation
- Unit cooler / Evaporator selection
- Compressor selection
- Condenser selection
- Printable and transmittable PDF summary page(summary details can be sent via emails)

Eden is an international heat exchanger brand in refrigeration industry. We manufacture international quality Heat Exchangers using the latest design and heat transfer technology. Our continuous research and development programs create innovative and energy efficient products through advance technologies which either meet or exceed current industry standards and customer expectations.

Eden Cool Solution!

Visit us at <http://www.edensolution.com/>

Instruction

Scan QR Code with your mobile / tablet to learn more about EDEN Select Apps

